War Crisis in Europe Today

London—Great Britain said to have guaranteed independence of Greece and Turkey; Chamberlain reported to have told Mussolini Britain would regard attack on Greek island of Corfu as invitation to war; Cabinet in urgent session; emergency naval orders issued as warships quit Italy; Britain hopes to spread "halt-Hitler" bloc but fears war in 90 days.

Tirana—Provisional government of Albania pledges loyalty to Mussolini, accepts Italian rule as King Zog and royal family continue flight through Greece.

Rome—Fascists dis-Italy reinforced troops in Dodecanese islands in Aegean Sea, near Greece; Mussolini remains in capital, delays triumphal flight to Tirana.

Washington—President Roosevelt arrives from Georgia and goes into war crisis conference with Secretary of State Hull.

Italy Boosts Army to 950,000

ROME, April 10 (AP)—Authorities reported today that the Italian army had been reinforced with reservists to a total strength of approximately 950,000.

The confirmed that the entire class of reservists born in 1912 had been called to the colors as well as specialists of the classes from 1901 to 1912.

ALBANIA PLEDGES LOYALTY TO DUCE AS TROOPS FLY IN

TIRANA, April 10 (AP)—The provisional Albanian government today pledged the loyalty of the Albanian people to Premier Mussolini and formally accepted Italian rule on their behalf.

The president and secretary of the administrative committee broadcast loyalty addresses to Albanians and to Italy. Their speeches were relayed over all Italian radio stations.

The "appeal" of Albanian leaders to Mussolini to permit them to found an Albanian Fascist party also was read over the radio.

"We express our thanks for your (Mussolini's) sacrifices, which have saved the Albanian people from so many dangers," the appeal said.

The addresses came as crowds gathered in the main square of this fallen Albanian capital in expectation of a broadcast by Mussolini.

The president of the provisional government spoke in Albanian and the secretary in Italian. The broadcast opened with the Albanian national anthem and the Fascist hymn.

Earlier Tirana had expected Duce to fly here today, but plans for any trip remained indefinite. There was considerable speculation on the sort of government Mussolini would choose for Albania.

It was possible the premier would offer the crown of fugitive King Zog to King Vittorio Emanuele, just as he presented the monarch with the crown of Ethiopian King Haile Selassie three years ago. Meanwhile Italian troops continued to advance into the rugged valleys of the Albanian hinterland, reporting they were welcomed by the people as deliverers. Commanders said they met little or no resistance.

Warning to Mussolini; English Warships Move

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—The British cabinet in emergency session was reported reliably today to have decided to offer to guarantee the independence of Greece and Turkey.

Earlier Prime Minister Chamberlain was said to have told Italy that any attempt to seize the strategic Greek-owned island of Corfu would be interpreted by Britain as an invitation to war.

The urgent cabinet session coincided with emergency movements of British warships in the Mediterranean.

It was announced officially both houses of Parliament would be convened on Thursday, breaking the Easter recess which began last Thursday and was to have extended until April 15.

The object was to register the British government's disapproval of the Italian invasion of Albania and to discuss ways of protecting other nations considered threatened.

The announcement of Britain's intention of guaranteeing the independence of Greece and Turkey may be made by Chamberlain to the House of Commons Thursday.

WAR DEBATE LIKELY

The special parliamentary session is likely to continue through Friday. A foreign affairs debate will follow the prime minister's declaration.

The last time Parliament was recalled ahead of schedule was during the Czechoslovakian crisis in September.

Issuance of emergency fleet orders at Malta and the sailing of the battleship Malaya from Menton, France, first indicated Britain was preparing to protect the Greek coast.

All British naval officers on holiday in Tangier, Morocco, were ordered by telegraph to return to their ships immediately.

A Greek spokesman here said Britain had not been asked to send ships to protect Greek ports which are important to the safety of the British-French trade routes through the Mediterranean.

CAUSE FOR WAR

Chamberlain's message to Mussolini, said to have been conveyed by the Earl of Perth, British ambassador in Rome, was:

MEDITERRANEAN WAR MAP—As Italy moves for complete subjection of invaded Albania and eyes new lands for conquest, six points on the shores of the Mediterranean hold the attention of the world. 1—TANGIER, where British have recalled officers and men to Gibraltar warships. 2—MENTON, French port from which H. M. S. Malaya has sailed under secret orders.

3—PANTELLERIA, Italy's Gibraltar that guards the narrows between Sicily and Africa. 4—MALTA, British stronghold, where all navy men have been ordered on ships. 5—CORFU, Greek island whose seizure by Italy would become cause for war, Britain warns. 6—DODECANESE ISLANDS, where Italy has landed 45,000 troops in Rhodes.

Famed Author Here From Britain; Sees Ocean Best U. S. Aid

America's best friend is the Atlantic ocean, according to Mazon De La Roche, world-famed author of the "Whiteoaks" series who arrived in Boston today aboard the Cunard liner Laconia.

Also disembarking at East Boston, besides Mrs. De La Roche, were a number of refugees seeking haven in this country.

Mazon De La Roche

Twenty-eight-year-old Stephanie Wallis, refugee from Austria, came to wed 60-year-old Ignaz Schindler of Boston, who arrived in this country some time ago after fleeing Austria. "We've almost gotten used to crises in England," said Mrs. De La Roche. "Now, instead of the fearful tenseness of last September, the people of the country seem resolutely watchful. They feel, whatever comes, they will be prepared."

WORKING ON NEW BOOK

The well known writer intends to live on Marlboro street for some time, then to take a cottage on the Massachusetts shore line. She is, she admitted, working on another of her books in the "Whiteoaks" series.

With her were her two children, Emma and Rene, and two pups, Moulton and Duff.

Dorothy Gresswell of Bradford, England, arrived to visit the Rev. Vivian Pomeroy of Milton, and Miss Marion Hancock caught her first glimpse of American soil on her way to Los Angeles.

FLED POLAND

Miss Musza Jofchelowiez came from Poland, whence she fled in fear of things to come, to see her mother on Porter street, Malden.

Dr. Benjamin Hacker of Vienna, en route to New York, told of having spent nine months getting here from his home.

"You can say," he shrugged when he was asked about conditions in Vienna now.

Nurses' Head Gives 'Lie' to Fin. Com.

Flaring back at a critical Finance Commission report, Miss Laura Logan, superintendent of nurses at Boston City Hospital, today defended her training system and branded as "erroneous" figures quoted by the commission.

In supporting her system, Miss Logan denied that students nurses spent too much time in classes, declaring they must be properly trained before being allowed to administer to patients.

While criticizing the hospital management, the Finance Commission also took a fling at the City Council, advising the body to cease interfering in affairs.

The report, made after a secret probe of charges aired in the City Council chamber, also branded the vertical organization of hospital employees as a potentially dangerous political power.

In answering the commission's charges that student nurses were not spending enough time in the wards, Miss Logan said:

CITES STAFF INCREASE

"Student nurses are given six months of training when they join the staff in order that they might know how to attend a patient. Graduate nurses work 54 hours a week on day duty and 66 on night duty. Student nurses work 27 hours on night duty, but I don't know how the commission computed 85 hours. We have never had any such figure."

"Because of a misunderstanding of schedules many erroneous statements are made."

The report charges that Miss Logan has increased her personal staff of directors from 30 to 41 since she took control in 1937, and that the net result of treatment at the hospital was better in 1933, when the hospital population was larger, and the number of nurses smaller, than in 1938.

Because of the "university courses," nurses are worked as high as 77 to 95 hours a week, the report avers, or an average of 66 hours as compared to 54 hours in most hospitals.

TOBIN LAUDS REPORT

Mayor Tobin issued a statement complimenting the finance commission on its statement. He said:

"In my opinion the finance committee statement is one of the finest factual reports I have ever read. It indicates a great deal of study upon the part of the committee's members, and it should prove decidedly helpful in answering the questions of the members of the City Council, and should greatly help the hospital trustees in handling the nursing problem."

270 New Citizens Wave Old Glory

In contrast to the European way of changing nationalities by bayonet edicts, 270 persons, men and women from all nations, were sworn to American citizenship today in federal court.

Judge Hugh D. McLellan, in administering the oath, acquainted the new citizens with the benefits of their new status.

Filing proudly from the courtroom the group was presented with miniature American flags by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Under direction of Mrs. Susan T. Eiler, president of the auxiliary, the flags, bearing the inscription, "Citizenship Day—American Legion Auxiliary," were pinned in prominent view on the coat lapels.

SPEAKER HERTER ILL

Speaker of the House Christian A. Herter was confined to his bed today with a cold.

FLAG OF CITIZENSHIP—Among 270 men and women who were admitted to U. S. citizenship at the Federal Building today is Mrs. Linez Beeb, 26, of Back Bay. She receives flag of honor from Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes of Joyce Kilmer Post of the Legion Auxiliary, after leaving courtroom.

DAD'S PLEA SAVES YOUTH FROM JAIL

FRAMINGHAM, April 10—Grief of a distressed father today saved from a jail sentence a high school student who thought that driving a car at 70 miles per hour "was not too fast a speed."

4 Dead, 2 Injured In Bolivia Crackup

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 10 (AP)—A Bolivian airliner which crashed a week ago in a deep ravine was reached today by a rescue plane which found four dead and two injured among the seven persons who were aboard.

Carlos Zultzer, a small boy, was the only one unharmed. The pilot was injured and the mechanic killed.

Lorden's Son Suffers Burns on Head, Face

James Lorden, 23, son of Dennis T. Lorden, an official of the federal alcohol tax unit, was seriously burned on the face and head today by fire of undetermined origin in the kitchen of his home in Watertown.

Thomas F. Keegan, Jr., 17, of Westwood, N. J., the accused student, was in district court charged with speeding and driving in danger, aftermath of an automobile accident on the Worcester turnpike in which his companion was seriously injured.

Robert Fortin, 18, of Washington street, Marlboro, a close friend, was hurried from the car and suffered internal injuries.

Keegan's father, who had driven to the Fortin home to bring his son and daughter back to New Jersey after a weeks' visit, appeared in court for his son and entered a not guilty plea to the charge of driving in danger.

The boy admitted the speeding charge. After listening to the father's plea for his son, Judge James E. Luby found the boy guilty of both charges. He imposed fines totaling $75 but refused to sentence him to jail "because his family has already suffered enough."

Asks State to Probe Insurance Closings

A legislative investigation into the collapse of the Broad Street Mutual Casualty Company and the Canton Mutual Liability Insurance Company was demanded today by Rep. Carl Weekel, of Methuen, at the State House before the rules committee.

Asked by House Democratic minority leader Albert F. Morris of Everett if he had any evidence to show there was illegality in the granting of licenses to the companies, Weekel responded:

"If the investigation is granted it will all come out in the wash. 'The general public,' he shouted, 'isn't getting a square deal. I'm up here to protect the general public. The insurance companies have plenty of lobbyists up here to furnish them protection.'"

Weekel maintained that the state should be held responsible for losses to persons who had paid for 1939 automobile insurance policies from the two companies, inasmuch as the state requires compulsory automobile insurance. He declared there were 3500 "in my district alone who were stuck."

No one appeared in opposition.

SPY TRIAL DELAYED

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The trial of three men on charges of conspiracy to obtain and use passports fraudulently—an outgrowth of the Robinson-Rubens case—was reset for Wednesday in federal court today.

VOTE DUE ON VET ACT

The House prepared to vote today on bills calling for repeal or modification of the veterans' preference act, on the heels of a blast from the Massachusetts Civic League, Inc.

The league criticized the legislative committee on civil service for opposing the bills. President Henry R. Atkinson complained that the majority of the committee even refused to allow voters to settle the issue by referendum at the next election.

He declared the legislature was always way behind public opinion and contended that the preference act would be wiped out by a wide margin if the voters could voice themselves.

Triple Rites For 3 of 5 N. Y. Sisters

COHOES, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—Three of five middle-aged unmarried sisters who lived and worked together will be buried tomorrow after triple funeral services.

They are Johanna Murnane, who succumbed to pneumonia Thursday, and her twin sisters, Margaret and Mary, who died yesterday of the disease less than 12 hours apart.

The survivors are Bridget and Esther. The sisters, natives of Ireland, had lived together in Cohoes since childhood.

Toy Brings Joy To Doomed Boy

RAMEY, Pa., April 10 (AP)—A fluffy, toy Easter chick brought the first smile in weeks to the face of nine-year-old John Zurick, who can't see, chew or walk.

The toy was one of hundreds of Easter gifts that came to the lad—incurably ill of a brain disease—from practically every state in the union.

He chuckled loudly as his mother described to him the colored eggs and other presents. Many letters contained money and from Denver, Colo., came an offer to pay transportation of the boy to obtain treatment there.

Philadelphia physicians who examined the youngster 10 days ago said there was no known cure for the rare Schilder's disease, an acute inflammation of the brain.

Dever and Curley To Speak on Purge

The largest Democratic gathering since the Fall election is expected to hear Attorney General Paul A. Dever and former Governor James M. Curley discuss political conditions in Massachusetts tomorrow night at the reunion dinner in Hotel Bradford of the "Curley speakers' campaign bureau."

Dever and Curley are due to unsheath their political batteries for the first time since the advent of the Saltonstall administration on the subject of the Republican "purge" of Democrats from state payrolls. John R. McVey, chairman of the reunion committee, will preside.

Quins Wear Easter Suits

CALLANDER, Ont., April 10 (INS)—There was no Easter parade for the Dionne quintuplets, chiefly because several feet of snow still enfold their nursery.

Any fashion parade for the five little princesses will have to be postponed, it appeared today, until May 22, when they are to be presented to the British king and queen at Toronto.

Now approaching their fifth birthday, the quintuplets enjoyed Easter with fluffy chickens for play-toys.

NINE DEAD IN N. E. CRASHES AS HOLIDAY JAMS ROADS

In the most disastrous week-end of the year for motorists, as car crashes marred Easter with tragedy and endangered scores, highway accidents today claimed a total of nine lives in New England.

Police said the clearing weather Sunday afternoon was partly responsible for the sharp increase in deaths, as thousands of automobiles jammed trunk highways and side roads. Careless driving and an alleged hit-run operator helped swell the toll.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

Joseph Scanlon, 57, of Auburn was killed as he was crossing the highway on the southwest cutoff near his home last night by an automobile. Police Chief Charles E. Brennan, Jr., said the car was driven by Alphonse Torello of New Haven, Ct., who was questioned but was not held.

Two men were run down and killed near Skowhegan, Me. They were Adelaider Roderick, 29, and Alfred Thibault, 41, Clarence St. Cyr, 43, the third man in the group suffered a broken arm and leg.

Edgar Santerre, 19, of Waterville, was arrested charged with manslaughter and driving under the influence of liquor by State Patrolman Sherman Hollowell. Russell Tripp, a soldier at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., was killed in a collision of a motorcycle and automobile near New Sharon, Me. Maurice A. Menard, another soldier riding with Tripp, received a fracture of the leg.

MYSTERY ACCIDENT

Victim of a mysterious accident in Hallowell, N. H., a man identified as Walter Leonard, 45, of Hallowell, Me., died at Manchester two hours later. He was thought to have fallen from a train and dropped to the highway which runs under the railroad tracks.

In Bangor, Me., four-year-old Anna J. Harnish died of injuries received Saturday near her home in East Hampden, where she was struck by a truck.

Funeral services were scheduled today in Lacombe, N. H., for Everett Archibald, 42, who was killed with Stephen C. Swain, 35, and Stephen Wain, Jr., 12, in a grade crossing accident at Tilton. Their truck and a Boston express, the Alouette, collided in the center of town.

Timilty Attends Wedding Of Brother to Miss Shea

Harry I. Timilty, brother of Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty, was married today to Miss Kathleen Mary Shea of Elmwood park, Braintree, at a nuptial mass in the Sacred Heart Church, Weymouth Landing.

Officiating was Rev. John F. Curran of New Rochelle, N. Y., cousin of the bride.

Attired in a simple ivory satin gown and a shoulder length veil, the bride was accompanied to the altar by her life-long friend, Miss Vivian Lawrence of Wollaston, who was maid of honor. Miss Lawrence was gown in aqua blue tulle.

Fred Timilty, another brother, was best man. The police commissioner was among the small group of relatives and close friends present. A reception followed at the Copley Plaza hotel.

The bride is a former employee of the telephone company while Mr. Timilty holds the post of Suffolk County deputy sheriff.

Torrio, Ex-Rum King, Guilty as Tax Evader

NEW YORK, April 10 (INS).—With dramatic unexpectedness, John Torrio, former associate of Al Capone in Chicago's underworld, today suddenly changed his plea from not guilty to guilty to the charge of having defrauded the U. S. government of $50,000 income taxes during the years 1933, 1934 and 1935.

Two of Torrio's four co-defendants also changed their plea to guilty. They were Torrio's brother-in-law, William Stockbower, and James La Penna, one of Torrio's henchmen.

Sentence will be pronounced by Federal Judge John W. Clancy on Wednesday.

Torrio faces the possibility of being sentenced to 12 years in jail and fines aggregating $30,000. Stockbower and La Penna face a similar penalty.

Torrio and four co-defendants had been on trial before a jury of five women and seven men.

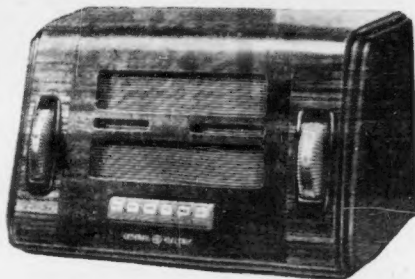

Two of the co-defendants, Louis G. La Cava and John D'Agostino, did not change their plea. Their bail in $5000 was continued. The indictment against them stands and they will be given a new trial.

It came to an end the criminal career of a man whose name figured prominently in the press of the nation for years, originally from New York's lower East Side, he went to Chicago more than 20 years ago and he and Al Capone became affiliated with Jim Colisimo, a bar and slot bar.

When Colisimo was slain, Torrio took over in 1924 and rival gangsters tried to kill him, wounding him severely. He left soon afterward for the East.

GOVERNOR, CITIES PLAN TAX REFORM

Governor Saltonstall and mayors of one-third of the state's cities agreed today at the State House to eliminate partisan issues in legislative consideration of a new taxation program the Republican chief executive will submit later in the week.

"The mayors and I," the governor told his press conference, "agree that consideration of the taxation program should be based entirely on a non-partisan spirit of action."

"The question is most important to the people of the state. The first problem is to get economy and then we must get the necessary revenue."

The governor's office said the mayors stressed the need of a long range program to attract new industries to Massachusetts and discussed their more immediate problems growing out of the possibility of increased tax rates.

Led by Mayor Edward J. Vok of Chelsea, president of the Mayors' Club, 12 city chief executives attended a "round table" discussion in the governor's private office.

Among mayors attending were William A. Bennett, Worcester; Roger L. Putnam, Springfield; Maurice J. Tobin, Boston; J. Fred Manning, Lynn; Dewey G. Archambault, Lowell; L. F. Ingalls, Marlboro; Walter Griffin, Lawrence; John C. Carr, Medford; Arthur Hansen, Waltham; Thomas F. Burgin, Quincy; James Carens, Newburyport.

Anti-Isms Laws Aired at Hearing

Six amendments to existing laws, intended to end activities of subversive groups in Massachusetts, or, at least, to drive them into the open, are scheduled to be heard tomorrow before the joint legal affairs committee of the Legislature.

Three of the measures, filed by Rep. Phillip A. Sherman, of Somerville, are framed to make it a crime to advocate the violent overthrow of the government of the state, or of the nation, or to advocate the use of violence against any public official, by written documents, printed paper or oral denunciation.

These measures also call for the licensing of any groups other than churches to raise funds for any purpose, and that all "parties," as differentiated from political parties, be required to register.

The other three were submitted by Rep. Edward D. Sirs, of Lawrence, Republican floor leader. They provide for registration of individuals using names other than their own, prohibit attacks on individuals because of race and parading of arms by others than regularly authorized groups.

Harvard Group To Attend Meet

President James Bryant Conant of Harvard and 17 faculty members will journey to New Orleans for the 42d annual Associated Harvard Clubs meeting which opens for three days in that city next Friday.

Keynote of the meeting will be President Conant's speech, "Can Education Save Democracy?"

This subject, it was explained, was chosen because of mounting "grabs" by dictators in Europe.

Clubs in more than 130 cities will be represented.

Among those in President Conant's party will be Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard Law School, Professor Arthur N. Holcomb, head Dr. Richard M. Gummer, chairman of the committee on education.

PARDONS PROBE RUSHED

Speedy investigation of pardons granted convicts in recent years loomed today when it was learned the House Ways and Means Committee would recommend an immediate appropriation of $2500 for an investigating committee.

Further appropriations will be asked for later, it was indicated, but the committee is prepared to cut its request from $10,000 to expedite speedy legislative approval. Likelihood a committee headed by a special investigator will be ready to launch the investigation within five days was expressed by State House observers, who predicted a college law professor or an attorney not actively engaged in politics would be the likely choice.

One obstacle to speedy action may arise in a dispute over the procedure of such an inquiry, observers pointed out.

Identifies Two In Taxi Holdup

Two Roxbury youths were identified today in a Boston police lineup as the bandit suspects who kidnaped and robbed a taxicab driver in Hyde Park last Friday. Albert Hutchins, of Sterling square, South Boston, pointed out George Leary, 21, of Regent street, and Bernard Brennan, 23, of Dudley street, as the pair who took $5 and his cab away from him at gun point.

Hutchins charged the pair frused him up with his necktie and suspenders and drove several miles before turning him out near New Calvary cemetery, Mattapan.

Several hours later Leary and Brennan, riding in a car sought by Brockton police in a hit-run accident, were arrested in Whitman. They were held on charges of drunkenness and later turned over to Boston detectives.

In West Roxbury district court they were charged with unarmed robbery and larceny of an automobile. They waived examination and were held in $5000 each for the grand jury.

Mother Testifies For Leduc Boy

PROVIDENCE, April 10 (AP)—Elmer L. Leduc, 19-year-old Woonsocket youth charged with the milk-bottle murder of his grandmother, had frequent "irrational periods" during which he had "an awfully funny look," his mother, Mrs. Vernal Leduc, testified at the trial today.

Mrs. Leduc also testified that her mother, elderly Mrs. Anna M. Baker, victim of the slaying, was subject to "terrible spells" when "her eyes would bulge out, her face would swell up, and she would become hysterical like, cry and scream."

Dr. Cornelius B. Barry testified he once treated Elmer for what was believed an epileptic fit.

City Council 'Budget Boys' Meet, Shiver, and Quit

It was with pretty dull spirit that the budget boys of the City Council sat down again today at City Hall to consider Mayor Tobin's list for 1939.

Once more, Councilors Clement A. Norton of Hyde Park, Henry L. Shattuck of Back Bay and Sidney Rosenberg of Dorchester were away from their $2000-a-year chairs and there was a committee quorum for only 20 minutes.

SOS FOR WITNESSES

Besides, it was cold and damp in the chamber of the council committee in appropriations and there was trouble about timing the witnesses and the like.

It was all pretty discouraging when Chairman Perlie Dyar Chase of Back Bay called the short committee to order.

The others present were George F. McMahon of Roxbury, who was an absentee last time when the hustling broke up for lack of a quorum, William A. Carey, also of Roxbury, and James M. Langgan of Jamaica Plain.

Langgan had a client waiting in court and after 20 minutes the councillor got up and left for his client, which left only three councillors—and again no quorum.

But quorum or not, Chairman Chase said they'd chatter on in the chill room, and William J. Kurth, superintendent of the county index commission, took the stand briefly and outlined his wants for the year.

TOO MANY DOCTORS

Then Register of Deeds William T. A. Fitzgerald, next due on the stand, was called. Someone said he was at a funeral and so there was no witness then available. The councillors got on the phone and finally raised William J. Kenney, chief clerk of the retirement board. He wasn't due for several days but he came over and discussed the board's budget.

State Rites in Senate Planned for 'Ham' Lewis

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—A quietly solemn Senate heard tributes today to Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who died last night, and then recessed until tomorrow out of respect to his memory.

A state funeral will be held in the Senate chambers at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Senate officials invited President Roosevelt, members of the Supreme Court, the cabinet, the House and the diplomatic corps to the funeral.

Senator Barkley (D) of Kentucky told the Senate Lewis "occupied a place in the hearts and memories of this body that can not be filled."

Barkley said that during all the history of this nation no more brilliant or colorful man has occupied the stage of public life.

It was expected the casket bearing Lewis' body would be taken into the chamber a few hours before the service, and that a guard of honor would stand by.

Lewis' seat will remain vacant throughout the services.

Seating arrangements will place Mr. Roosevelt and members of the Supreme Court at the front of the chamber.

Mrs. Rose Lewis was at her husband's side when he died.

NOTABLES HONOR DOUGLASS

Representatives of state, county and city today attended funeral services for John J. Douglass, Boston penal institutions commissioner, at St. Theresa's Church West Roxbury. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Active pall bearers, led by Deputy Master Andrew H. McCarthy, were six uniformed guards from Deer Island House of Correction Frederick A. Murphy, George H. Donovan, James L. Hughes, Daniel T. Ford, John R. Hoban and George H. Beers.

Mr. Douglass, who lived at 51 Lansdowne street, West Roxbury, died Wednesday of pneumonia.

JAMES F. HIGGINS
James F. Higgins, 54, assistant treasurer of the Boston Herald-Traveler Corporation and a lifelong resident of Arlington, died today at his home, 1011 Massachusetts avenue, after a lengthy illness.

He joined the Herald-Traveler as a clerk 35 years ago and was made assistant treasurer in 1925. For many years he had lived with his widowed sister, Mrs. Sarah Cleary.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday, with solemn high mass of requiem at St. James Church, Arlington Heights, at 9 a. m.

MRS. PAUL R. RADFORD
Wife of Paul R. Radford, a professional ballplayer of the 1880's, Mrs. Minnie A. Radford, 72, died at her home in Highland street, Hyde Park.

The funeral will be from her late home, Wednesday afternoon at two, and private. Interment will be in Old Cemetery in Dedham.

Mrs. Radford was born Minnie Blair of Milford. She is survived by her husband, and one daughter, Ruth.

WILLIAM J. ROCKWOOD

Funeral services for William Jerome Rockwood, retired principal of Everett High School, will be held from the Congregational Church in Everett Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He will be buried in Glenwood cemetery.

Tudor 'Wills' No. 1 Car Plates To Widow, Son
Ten days ago, Motor Vehicle Registrar Frank A. Goodwin received a letter from Frederic Tudor of Sandwich, holder of automobile registration plates "Mass. 1" since cars were first registered here.

"I anticipate dying soon," said the letter, "and I request that Mass. 1, at my death, be turned over to my wife or to my adopted son."

Today Frederic Tudor's prediction of his early death had been fulfilled. He was dead at his Cape Cod home, just across the canal.

GRANTS LAST WISH
And the wish of the veteran motorist and gentleman farmer will be carried out, Registrar Goodwin said, despite a deluge of calls today from persons who desire the famed number.

The registration will be offered first to the widow, Mrs. Amy Tudor, and if she does not desire it, the number then will go to Dr. Frederic Tudor, 33-year-old Milton physician.

Dr. Tudor is a nephew as well as adopted son of the late gentleman farmer.

The physician is the son of W. Starling Burgess, famed yacht and airplane designer, and Frederic Tudor's sister, second of Burgess' four wives.

GOT LICENSE IN 1902
Private funeral services will be held for Frederic Tudor, who was 70 and a grandson of Frederic Tudor, who made commercial history a century ago by sending ice out to India in Yankee ships.

Graduate of Harvard, he was a famous oarsman in college days and a celebrated sculler of the Union Boat Club, even though he had lost a leg.

He got his "Mass. 1" license in 1902, when he owned a Winton. Since then he had never had a serious accident and had been a crusader for safety on the highways.

President, First Lady See Egg Rolling Fete

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt stood on the south portico of the White House today and greeted several thousand cheering children holding their annual Easter egg rolling festival on the broad lawn behind the mansion.

The sun shone brightly as the President, standing beside the First Lady, waved to the brightly dressed throng and said:

"This is the seventh time that Mrs. Roosevelt and I have had the great privilege of having you on the White House lawn on Easter Monday."

"I am glad I was able to get back from Warm Springs, and Mrs. Roosevelt from the Pacific Coast, in time to greet you today."

"It is a wonderful day and I hope you all enjoy yourselves very much. I wish I could be down there with you."

Mrs. Roosevelt did go down, dressed in a colorful blue ensemble. She received a bouquet and waved cheery greetings at the children, as she walked through the crowd.

'THUMB SUICIDE' IS KNOX DEFENSE

On the question of whether a woman would pull the trigger of a revolver with her thumb in attempting to take her own life potentially rested the fate today of Special State Trooper George T. Knox, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Helen Darragh Dale, pretty divorcee, found shot to death two years ago in the Kenmore square apartment of Knox.

That Mrs. Dale did so pull the trigger was what the defense sought to prove today in an elaborate reconstruction of the death scene, staged during cross-examination of Sgt. Edward Selbold, ballistics expert for the Boston police department.

Sergeant Selbold, putting in his second day on the stand, was asked by Defense Attorney James McGrail to take a seat in the chair in which Mrs. Dale's body was found, one of the state's exhibits in its efforts to show she was murdered.

PULLS THE TRIGGER

He was then directed to take in his hand the revolver found near the body and to point it at his left breast.

"Not that way," interjected Mc-

Grail, as the pistol expert placed his fore finger on the trigger in what was obviously an awkward position. "Your thumb," he said, "put your thumb on the trigger."

Selbold did as he was bid. "Now pull the trigger," said McGrail—and the pistol clicked empty.

"Now drop it," said McGrail—and it clattered to the floor, falling but a short distance from where he sat.

GUN 3 INCHES AWAY

Under the drive of McGrail's questionings, Selbold attempted to show in what position Mrs. Dale sat when the bullet crashed through her breast, close to her heart. He stooped forward once, and again rested on one knee so as to draw a possible line through his body in such fashion that a projectile, piercing him, might have made the two holes in the chair-back.

When McGrail sought a direct expression of opinion from him, there was objection and he was not allowed to answer.

"This is a matter for the jury to decide," ruled the judge. Selbold also testified that the revolver was fired while approximately three inches away from Mrs. Dale.

The state contends that Mrs. Dale, to whom Knox was attentive, was shot to death by him as the result of a quarrel. The defense contends she ended her own life.

Amie Withdraws;

Benson to Be Named

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Thomas R. Amie, former progressive member of the House from Wisconsin, asked President Roosevelt today to withdraw his nomination as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It was understood the President would accede to his wishes. Former Governor Elmer Benson of Minnesota may be named instead, senators heard today.

Parley Staves Off Fuel Tieup

In a last minute move to halt a threatened strike of 2000 fuel company chauffeurs Gen. Charles H. Cole, of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration today called a conference between representatives of fuel concerns and employees.

Indications officials of the union had held hope for a settlement of the threatened controversy was seen when John Donovan, chairman of the negotiating committee, failed to order the men out on strike earlier today.

When General Cole arrived at the State House today he communicated with Pearl W. Convey, president of the fuel institute, and Chairman Donovan of the negotiating committee.

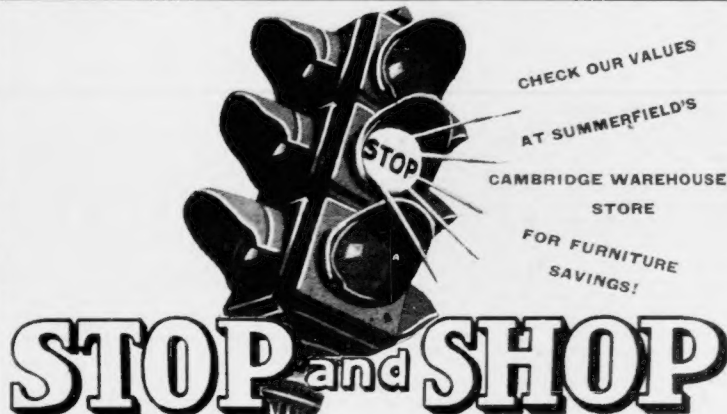

The controversy now under discussion involves the demand by union officials that contracts between the workers and the employers run from December to December rather than from April to April as is now the arrangement.

The union has agreed to accept a pay cut of 13 cents an hour for six month work weeks of 48 hours.

Britain Warns Italy; Aids Greece, Turkey

Bassard to Rome, was reported to be that Britain would "consider an attempt to seize Corfu as a casus belli (cause for war)."

At the same time rumors that Britain intended to occupy Corfu, which is off the southern tip of Albania and guards the gateway to the Adriatic, were denied.

The cabinet, after meeting for two and a quarter hours, recessed and a meeting of key ministers was set for later in the day. No communiqué was issued.

Between the meetings, Chamberlain arranged to see Clement R. Attlee, leader of the opposition in Commons.

SECRET NAVAL ORDERS

The Malta orders, sailing all seamen and officers back from shore leave last night, were described as preliminary to a "minor" naval movement. As to the Malaya, the admiralty declined to say where the big warship was headed.

The emergency orders at Malta caused an air of excitement at the big Mediterranean base. Two destroyer flotillas and a half-dozen cruisers were there.

The Malaya was to have participated in French-British carnival festivities starting today at Nice. She sailed before dawn.

PLAN JOINT MANEUVERS

It was reported in Paris France and Britain, both complementing diplomatic maneuvers with practical military talks, were considering joining military and naval demonstrations to give pause to any aggressive plans of the Rome-Berlin axis, following the Italian occupation of Albania.

The British battleship Warspite and the escort vessel Aberdeen sailed from San Remo, Italy, yesterday to avert any "embarrassment"—as it was explained in unofficial quarters.

Assurances given to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax by Guido Crolla, Italian chargé d'affaires, in three separate interviews yesterday—that Italy's occupation of Albania would be of "a limited character"—eased slightly the tenseness that marked the oral protest delivered by Halifax.

Diplomatic observers and the press, however, reflected a deep questioning of Mussolini's motives and raised doubt as to whether the cabinet would consider itself justified in crediting Italian assurances.

With rumors persisting that Italy had concentrated more troops than were needed merely to "protect" Albania, informed sources said Britain considered a quick guarantee to Greece essential to keep Italy from grabbing Corfu.

FRANCE, BRITAIN PREPARE

PARIS, April 10 (AP)—France and Great Britain were reported today to be considering joint military and naval demonstrations to back up their eastern European allies against further Italian-German expansion.

A two-hour extraordinary meeting of the French defense council on Easter Day when Premier Daladier consulted commanders of the French army, sea and air forces was said by informed sources to have been concerned with such demonstrations.

PLANS KEPT SECRET

There was no hint in the press or official quarters as to what form such measures might take.

It was said that the defense chiefs met to plan "preparations for all eventualities" and that "this is not the time for statements but for military measures to complete preparations."

The French foreign office was kept closely informed on the deliberations of the cabinet session in London. Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet conferred at length with British Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps and also received Soviet Ambassador Jacob Surits.

In view of Mussolini's repeated assurances that he has no designs on Greece or the island of Corfu, circles close to the government said Britain now may not denounce the Anglo-Italian accord guaranteeing the status quo in the Mediterranean.

TO SHOW NAVAL STRENGTH

This, however, was not expected to affect any plans for a show of naval force in the Mediterranean.

Premier Daladier was to meet with the cabinet tomorrow to discuss recommendations of the urgent national defense council session yesterday.

Mind Your Own Business, Gayda Replies to U. S.

ROME, April 10 (AP)—Vincenzo Gayda, replying to criticism in the United States, of Italy's seizure of Albania, told Americans today to "mind their own business."

Writing in Il Giornale d'Italia, Fascism's leading newspaper, spokesman threatened that Italy and Germany would muddle in American affairs unless the United States let them alone.

"Let the Americans mind their own business, not entirely happy and brilliant, and leave Italy and Albania in peace," he wrote.

Holland Set To Flood Land If War Comes

LONDON, April 10 (INS)—Since the Czech-German crisis last September the Dutch government has perfected plans to flood one-third of Holland within a few hours in case of invasion, the Daily Express said today in a dispatch from Amsterdam.

Huge dykes dotting the country have been altered in the past few months making it comparatively easy to inundate a vast area of the country including such great cities as Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague, the Express added.

BULLETINS

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—The British admiralty today confirmed that all British warships had been ordered to leave Italian ports. However, there was no confirmation of reports that the vessels were enroute to Greek ports.

LONDON, April 10 (INS)—A Berlin dispatch to the Daily Express said today Poland was informed on Friday by German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop that relations between the Nazi Reich and Warsaw cannot be considered normal until Polish reservists have been demobilized.

40th Anniversary

OF THE

PIONEER WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT

Forty years ago today America's first life insurance agency composed entirely of women was founded in Boston by FLORENCE E. SHALLENBARGER, Agent for The Equitable Life Insurance Society of the United States.

With the entry of women into business and professional life more generally, Mrs. SHALLENBARGER was one of the first to recognize the services which modern life insurance could render, both to those with dependents and those seeking to provide for their own future years. She became one of the best-known women in life insurance, and created for The Equitable the first and most outstanding woman's branch.

The organization so ably established by her has since 1915 been administered by one of her close friends and associates, Mrs. ELEANOR J. FELTON, as a unit of the FITZBUSH TRAYLOR AGENCY. The Home Office of The Equitable takes pride in pointing to the accomplishments of its Boston Woman's Dept., and looks forward to the continued patronage of its thousands of clients and friends in Eastern Massachusetts.

TRAMA DEBIT: Sam Jaffe, who has one of the leading roles in the movie, has been revising his script for a long time. He has been originally, in depicting fascist aggression, Jaffe has read: "Hitler painted off Austria, Mussolini's taking a late out of Spain." Jaffe now has about 100,000 copies of Czechoslovakia and Mexico, and Mussolini's Albanian army. He is working on taking from day to day.

TRAVEL DEBT: Eddy Duchin flew to Hollywood two days ago to see his son Peter. . . . Then he boarded a Hollywood plane bound for Chicago, where he was scheduled to start an engagement at the Palmer House.

The plane was grounded at Albuquerque and Luchin notified the Palmer House that his premiere would have to be postponed until next day. "That's impossible," Luchin was warned. "You'll have to make it, somehow—because we have advance reservations" . . . And so Luchin arrived in Chicago the next day, only to find a few more reservations to be made for the next day for $100.

SCHOOL LIFE: The 85 students are old enough to attend a state university in the Oxford north-eastern part of the country. A few speak English, but most are bilingual.

"How well can you speak English?" a steel worker was asked . . . "I was taught by a friend who worked in America," he replied, in Swedish. "He taught me two sentences, and said I could get by with: 'I like beer better than you.'"

LISTEN, WORLD!

THE MESSY CHILDREN should, in all cases, be in the same room for the same reason. All because I like that the two "AOL Over Eaters" make the scene understood. No, I because they aren't smart enough for they are. Not smart enough, for they are too. But because they sometimes pile up so many peevy and perversities and other little habits that they become difficult associates, ... too, set to live with in their hurried chaotic days.

AND NOW the "Men Over Forty Club" says: Wait a minute! Over-Forty folks aren't like that, they protest. To the contrary, they have the very qualities which Big Business most desires: experience, tolerance, mature judgment, technical ability, willingness to take criticism, ability to suggest new ideas.

And where and how do they get all these lovely qualities?" sez I. "Why, just by living along," responds the M. O. F. C. They asked, "Don't you believe the years mellow us and broaden us?" And, in short, perform all

MONDAY MEETINGS What a joy it is to go to the Council. I have been over a year in space. The Council is in excellent form and holding with the love of life and a return to nature. In his first meeting he generally mentions the report on the work of a group of 'advance thinkers' who one time came and together and passed before the New Year says leave in the introduction of 'defect spending'.

"Though we did not exactly spend our way into prosperity," The Colonel explains in his first column in The Daily News: "we fought off the constabulary with such electrifying success that hardly a one of us wasted much time in the poor debtors' court" . . . By the kindly omission of a comma, the Colonel refers to your reporter in a test in which will not but has special standing . . . "The lush Mr. George Holland, known as the thin man," is the description . . . You can see where a comma after the word "lush" would have been a baneful reference.

THE JOURNALISM of the Colonel and his men, in the hands of a man whose journalism is, as I say, a "news event" and "news" too. But as one of the Colonel's associates of the sacrifice day, when the circumstances successfully was a mark of distinction, I feel that warning should be served in the event of Colonel that there have changed. Our solid day is over. It's time to have that conflict. So save your money. We're tossing a pound of the same.

Unfortunately, however, many of us fail to do this. We seize upon the asinine tradition that our seniors should come with us in our younger years and that we, the

Washable Frock for Play Days

By ANNIE BRINK

Perhaps you are a busy housewife, a busy country lane, or a busy city girl. In any case, you are busy. You are busy to open the door to the world and marvel at how much has happened since you last played. You are busy to begin.

Under your feet, you are busy to wear something like the frock of rayon crepe that even now "washable" means your schoolyard clothes.

Or perhaps your picking up cute-looking casual things for your vacation wardrobe now, when you find exactly what you want. And then, in it, you will find the same thing that you find in the store.

When on the street, you are busy to see the things that are new, the things that are old, the things that are different. You are busy to see the things that are new, the things that are old, the things that are different. Bruins and Maple Leafs pulled out of the North Station about midnight but they will not arrive in Toronto until early this evening . . . Simmons, Garms Sisti Makes Hit With Casey Stengel

SAVANNAH, GA., April 10—Al Simmons will start the season in left field for the Bees despite the recent good showings made by Ralph Hodgins, Casey Stengel told me.

"Simmons is an experienced ball player and is sure to hit for .300," said Stengel. "Hodgins has displayed much promise, and should keep improving."

"You can also say that I have definitely decided to play Hobbs Garms at third base. . . . Garms isn't a perfect fielder, and will make an occasional error, but we need his batting strength. . . . I think I can develop young Sisti into a top flight third baseman. . . . Sisti is only 18 years of age, and appears to get better every night. . . . I shall bring him into Boston with the club, and will use him for a few innings at a time at third base. . . . Later I plan to return Sisti to Hartford where he will be able to play regularly. . . . Two years from now Sisti will be one of the stars of the National League if he doesn't meet with an injury."

Bobby Doerr was only 19 years of age when he started to play with the Red Sox. . . . Doerr has proved he has what it takes, and he has developed into one of the greatest second basemen in the American League. . . . Doerr is today 21 years old.

I asked Stengel how much money he would ask if another National League club wished to buy Sisti. "The boy is not for sale," exclaimed Stengel. "When you are lucky enough to get a natural ball player like Sisti you hold on to him."

Pezzulo Starred With Savannah

JOHN PEZZULO, left-handed pitcher who hails from Bridgeport, was much at home here today as this is where he starred last season, winning 26 and losing nine games. . . . Pezzulo is headed for one of the Bees farms. . . . It was expected that Pezzulo would pitch a few innings against the Senators here today.

Duffy Lewis, road secretary of the Bees, has had charge of the trip North. . . . He does as well at this task as he used to at covering left field for the Red Sox in the days of the famous outfield composed of Lewis, Speaker and Hooper. . . . The late John McGraw is still Casey Stengel's idea of the greatest manager in baseball.

Peter McKenna of Woburn, one of the most loyal of the Boston baseball rooters, is making the trip North with the Bees. . . . Peter umpired many of the Bees games in Florida. . . . McKenna has been going South with Boston ball clubs for a quarter of a century.

Georgia and Florida Schools

GEORGIA AND Florida schools are mostly new two-story affairs with plenty of windows and open grounds around them. . . . Some of the schools have baseball fields as well as tennis courts. . . . Hundreds of schools have been built in the South during the past few years with the aid of Federal funds. . . . They mean better opportunities for children and more jobs for deserving teachers. . . . The South has come a long way in education during the past 20 years. . . . Even the rural communities now have their buses that take the children to school each day.

At Bradenton, Fla., one could purchase 24 grapefruit and 30 oranges for 50 cents. . . . Fresh strawberries were selling at five cents a box. . . . Beach bungalows were renting from $30 to $75 a month. . . . One can live 50 per cent cheaper on the West Coast of Florida than on the East Coast. . . . You pay high for the razzle dazle of Miami Beach and Palm Beach.

Most Florida hotels will close this week, and many of their employees will head for the North. Some of them will later work in the resort spots in New England.

There is another war against dog tracks in Florida. . . . It is argued that dog tracks have invaded non tourist areas. . . . There is no any opposition to the horse tracks to any of the fact they have reduced their activities to the tourist sections of Miami, Coral Gables and Hollywood. . . .

GALAN OPTIMISTIC DESPITE CUBS' JINX

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—You don't hear the Chicago Cubs singing the Hard Luck Blues, even though three players—an expensive shortstop, outfielder and pitcher—are unknown quantities eight days before the National League race starts.

And the reason for their unshaken optimism in the face of hardships, says Archie Galan, the club's outfielder, is because the league champions have the cookies to fill the gaps.

BOOSTS GLEASON

Galan, tanned and lean, returned from training with the Cubs with a swollen knee, Dr. John F. Davis, Cubs' physician, was scheduled to X-ray the injury today to determine whether an operation was necessary.

Galan first injured the knee last season, and was out of 40 games and most of the World Series.

The ailing knee puts him in the question mark class along with Dick Bartell, $24,000-a-year shortstop now here receiving treatment for a sore ankle, and Dizzy Dean, of the celebrated $185,000 sore arm. "Off course, I hope to be there within a short time, but you never can tell," said Galan, an important cog in the offensive and defensive setup of the team.

"But if I can't play for a while, this Jim Gleason can take over in fine style. He's been looking great this spring, has a fine arm, is fast and hits well. I think he's ready for the majors."

(The Cubs bought Gleason, who is 26, from Newark of the International League last year.)

LILLARD SEEMS SET

"At short, we've got Steve Mesner. (Another rookie, 21 years old.) He has been improving rapidly in the field lately, and his hitting has been fine all along."

"Then we've got a young pitcher named Gene Lillard who should get going. All the boys think he's set for a good season, and I'm sure Manager Gabby Hartnett feels the same."

"It's a great ball club. We've got power—more than we had last season—and I think a much stronger team."

B's to Show Fighting Club Against Sox on Week-End

By JACK CONWAY

SAVANNAH, GA., April 10—It will be a fighting, improved ball club that Casey Stengel will bring into Boston on Friday prepared for the opening of the city series with the Red Sox on Saturday and Sunday.

The 1939 Bees believe they are going places. They still have some rough spots to polish off, but the club is getting better as it approaches its opening game of the league season in Boston against the Phillies on April 18.

There are four more games scheduled with the Washington Senators before the Bees move into Boston. The Bees play Buckie Harris' team here today and at Charlotte, N. C., tomorrow. The two teams then move into Washington for pre-view clashes on Wednesday and Thursday.

The Bees are rooting for good weather in Boston. Some of the members of the club have never been as far North as New England at this time of the year.

These players would complain of the warm breezes they would get in Florida. They will find out what New England weather really is if there is a heavy blow off the Charles River some afternoon.

Before leaving Washington, Stengel will farm out four or five of his young players. There was a time when the Bees seldom had a youthful player who had sufficient ability to be placed with a minor league club for future seasoning.

Times have changed and the Bees now have their share of promising young ball players.

IN GOOD CONDITION

The club starts for the North in good condition.

The weeks spent in Florida have proved beneficial, and it looks as if the club will get off to an even start with all of its National League rivals, at least in the matter of condition.

The 1939 goal of the Bees is the first division, and if it can reach it, Casey Stengel and Bob Quinn will be satisfied. So will the fans.

AT BIRMINGHAM, Ala.

"I can you do with a guy like that?" murmured Mr. Cronin. . . . And Teddy giggled. . . .

but I think if Babe had a chance to play regularly for a couple of weeks, nobody could get him out of there. . . . He showed me plenty at Minneapolis last year. . . . If he could get over the habit of chasing bad curve balls now and then, he couldn't miss being a star. . . .

He has been slugging at top speed, and his good work, persons close to the club believe, has prompted Manager Connie Mack to decide to open Bill Lillard, for whom he paid $35,000, to Baltimore instead of Nagel.

ATLANTA, Ga.—It looks as if Bill Nagel will fill Bill Webster's vacancy at third base for the Philadelphia Athletics this season.

SHREVEPORT, La.—The Pittsburgh Pirates picked up their Chicago White Sox touring partners today greatly buoyed by the return to form of Cy Blanton.

Blanton's no-hitter against Cleveland gave Manager Pie Traynor hope that his pitching problem may be largely solved.

ATLANTA, Ga.—What may develop into a major casualty for the New York Yankees has developed out of a clear sky. Red Ruffing got out of bed yesterday and found his right foot and ankle so painful he could barely walk and was ordered to have X-ray pictures made today.

He twisted the ankle Saturday but gave it no thought at the time.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—More and more it appears that Legrant (Lefty) Scott, a rookie from Erie, Pa., who played for Birmingham last season, will start in the Phillies' outfield this year.

He has been dangerous at bat all season and in the clean spot against Nashville brought in three runs on four hits.

BELETED! Jack Wilson, Red Sox

strongboy, who was shelled for 10 hits in six innings by Reds at Durham, N. C. National League pennant favorites got five of their hits in the sixth.

'GROW UP,' MGR. BARKS AT TIELESS WILLIAMS

By JOE CASHMAN

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 10—Mountain music:

Joe Cronin is one of those gifted individuals who succeeds at anything he tackles. . . . The Sox plot didn't know one playing card from another not so long ago. . . . Now he's an expert, if unorthodox, contract player. . . . He's taken Mike Higgins' place as Jimmy Fox's bridge partner, and is cleaning up. . . .

Jack Wilson, usually paired with Elden Auker, loses his temper as well as his money whenever he sits down to match pastebard skill with the skipper. . . . A player must know how to live, and you don't as yet. . . . "You never wear a tie or keep your collar closed. You don't dress any warmer as the weather gets colder. You fill your stomach with a lot of rubbish between meals. You'll have to grow up, or you'll be ill more often than you're able to play. . . ."

Teddy Williams didn't get much sympathy when he took sick recently. . . .

"It requires more than batting and fielding ability to reach the top in baseball," Joe Cronin told his wonder rookie. . . . A player must know how to live, and you don't as yet.

Teddy answered: "You know that Gaffke is a great ball player. . . . Maybe I'm crazy to say this about a fellow who might beat me out of a job but I think if Babe had a chance to play regularly for a couple of weeks, nobody could get him out of there. . . . He showed me plenty at Minneapolis last year. . . . If he could get over the habit of chasing bad curve balls now and then, he couldn't miss being a star. . . .

BOSTON SALESMAN TELLS OF AVOIDING BALDNESS

JOHN E. WARNER is telling Chester M. Gould, salesman, of 633 Main St., Malden, what he must do to keep his scalp in a healthy condition. The rules are simple ones. Says Mr. Gould, "I had been losing my hair for years and had spent hundreds of dollars and a great deal of time on the treatments of so-called experts and systems with very poor results, and further loss of hair. I had nearly given up hope of saving my hair. When I came to you I did not receive a sales talk or a lot of foolish claims and I can very truthfully say that the results have exceeded my expectations. My hair is thicker and my scalp is healthy. I no longer fear baldness. This was achieved with a small expenditure of time and money. I have made this statement without remuneration and at my own suggestion because I want others to know of the work you are doing." You, too, if you are losing your hair, should consult John E. Warner, New England's leading hair and scalp specialist. There is no charge for a private consultation. You will receive honest advice and will not be accepted for treatment unless he can help you. His offices are at 515 Washington St., Boston, near the corner of West St., opposite R. H. White's.—Adv't.

The COLONEL

By DAVE EGAN

A new week, and a new job, and here I'll be until the man with (a) the butterfly net, (b) the broom, or (c) the scythe comes and gets me.

The chief claim to fame of the small coterie of advanced thinkers with whom I formerly associated is that we introduced "deficit spending" long before the New Deal thought of it, and though we did not exactly spend our way into prosperity, we fought off the constables with such electrifying success that hardly a one of us wasted much time in the poor debtor courts.

In that group were Mr. Max Kase, a bland stranger with a swift and touching approach; the lank Mr. George Holland, known as the thin man; Mr. James McEnaney, the only man in the world who is completely round, regardless of the angle from which he is approached; and Mr. Onus Phonus Aggott Maggott Pimpkin, otherwise George Henstus.

Mr. Kase was hurled unwillingly into the job of sports editor of the New York Journal, and immediately became such a hide-bound Republican that he wears a smug, paid-up look and makes only a handful of parlays a day. Mr. Heustis became the Boswell of the bow-wows at the Revere dog track, and flees down hotel corridors at the advanced approach of any person suspected of being an invulnerable thinker.

"This Man" Holland and "Round Man" McEnaney disappeared from sight for a few years, but the New York World Fair was meat and potatoes to them, and I understand that they have a rich concession there. I understand that they are the Trylon and Perisphere.

If you have not met me before, you will know by this that I am a deep-thinking, serious-minded party, and you will discover as time and the play-offs stagger on that I am quite a hand at minding the business of others, and giving unsolicited advice to proprietors of tight clubs, baseball teams, race tracks and hockey teams, and running a cool last in the annual Popularity Poll conducted by the magazines.

Naturally, I am for the Bees and Red Sox against the world, but when it comes to a question of the Bees OR the Red Sox, then I shall have to hop into the Hive. I'm the kind of a greaser who cheers for the underdog. Perhaps that is why my sympathies are more with the Bees than the Sox, more with Max Baer, any, than with Joe Louis. Perhaps that is why, in moments of malice, I will give a few and refer to the pluckiest of Tom Yawkey as the Floss, and to the heavyweight champion of the world as the Brown Hummer. I have been fortunate enough to inherit gallons of Irish blood, and if it boils into print at time, no permanent damage is done. It only results.

I have been taking the predictions that the Red Sox will win the pennant this year with a grain of salt and a stiff bracer, yet there in my North Agawam lair, for it seems to

I will have to shake off the gamy smell of North Agawam and find out about those matters, for your sake and mine, and I will have to call them as I see them, even if a few toes are stepped on and a few feelings bruised. That is my pledge to those of you who read this column.

I'm not in favor of sports writers who sit judiciously on a picket fence and refuse to take sides. I'd just as soon read an opinion by Justice Charles Evans Whittaker as read that kind of a sports column, and when controversy rears its delightful head you will undoubtedly find me in the immediate vicinity, braced against a wall and taking my Sunday shots.

This, though, is a column of sweetness and light, and birds, bees and flowers. This is the time, if Dave Egan, widely known and popular Sports Writer, has returned to the sport pages to write a daily column for the Daily Record. The Colonel, having re-introduced himself to the fans in his initial masterpiece, will call them as he sees them, even if a few toes are stepped on in tomorrow's Record's pages. The above column is reprinted from this morning's Record.

me that I have heard that one before, but there may be something to it after all. The eminent Bill Colram, outstanding sports columnist in the nation, is doing a lot of hemming and hawing down there in New York, and will hop aboard the Red Sox hand-wagon before many more editions go to bed.

Of course, I do remember that Mr. Corum selected a gallant steed entitled Red Ral to win the Kentucky Derby some four years back and backed his judgment with all the loose change at his command. He has pursued that gallant charger through gas-pipes and sewers in attempt to get even, but without success.

It will be a great boon to baseball in New England to have Will choose the Red Sox, for Will, a man of iron resolve, will not fold up. He will select them annually until such time as they either win the pennant or plow into the Eastern League, and I do believe that Charlie Coyle of the Chamber of Commerce should drop him a note of thanks. I am not so sure about winning it in the Fall, but we have already won the Spring title.

Nor am I well acquainted with the local boxing situation at the moment, except that the perennial Edward Aloysius Bartholomew Mack is sponsoring a public bloodbath in a pair of slaphers in Mechanics Building tomorrow night. Mr. Mack has a peculiar affinity for boxers of the shade of Mocha, and his slaphers, as of tomorrow night, will be a pair of gemmum entitled Fox and Gainer. If the population of Boston numbers 850,000, it is a clinch that the enthusiastic Mr. Mack will turn away at least $448,500.

ever there was a time, to give, from the bottom of a happy and humble heart, my thanks to the hundreds of friends who carried me on their shoulders into this job. This is the time to take a swing through New England, to say kindly that I owe debts that cannot be repaid to gentlemen like "Uncle Bill" Peters in Lawrence, John Quirk in Manchester, Jack Kenney and Joe Clough in Lowell, "Dinky" Whitmarsh and Roy Mumpkin in Worcester, Walter Graham and Bob Feldman and Ed Kennedy in Springfield, Art McGinley and Bert Keefe in Hartford. I'm proud that they call me friend, and now, Rodney, if you will hand me my spray-gun, I shall step over to Southie and discover for myself how J. Hambone Kley has managed to hold the fort against the Better Element all these years.

OHO, MR. CLANCY!

Southie Fan Extols Sox

Ford Misite,
649 East 7th street,
South Boston, Mass.

Dear Jack Conway:
I think Joseph Clancy is the bull-headed type of person who just talks for the sake of being heard. There's one thing Mr. Clancy can't twist to fit his purpose, and that is FACT.

Isn't it true, Mr. Clancy, that with the average of 591 compiled by the Red Sox in 1938, they would have won the National League pennant by five percentage points; that the highly touted keystone combination of the Bees completed 136 double plays as compared to the Red Sox 172; that the Red Sox were the only team to split or come close to splitting a series with the Yankees; that four Red Sox players were picked for the All-Star team and all four took part in this famous classic while only one Bee player was chosen and he made the trip just to see the sights; that a Red Sox player set a new record for consecutive base hits while a Bee player set an all time record for number of strikeouts; that these same Red Sox led both leagues in batting while the Bees had the lowest batting average of both leagues.

BEES VETS FADE
I could continue enumerating indefinitely but for lack of space. The above statements are facts down in the record books and I challenge Joe Clancy or any other Bee fan to offer proof to the contrary. As for Father Time catching up with Cronin and Fox, I think that is just a prejudiced opinion, for the records show no such indication, whereas the records of Turner and Fette's performances of last year show considerable drop and are more reasons for worry than those of Cronin and Fox.

Sincerely yours,
FORD J. MISITE.

GORE TO UMP IN E. L.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., April 6 (AP)—Arthur J. Gore, 32, of Cambridge, Mass., signed a contract tonight to umpire this year in the Eastern Baseball League.
Tommy Richardson, president of the league, announced Gore had signed.

DOYLE SHIFTS CUBS TO DRIVER'S SEAT

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Week's wash: Jack Doyle's baseball odds feature a last-minute shift from the Giants to the Cubs. . . Tony Canzoneri has made $25,000 in his comeback drive to date and wants to double it before quitting for good. . . They say Tom Greenfield, Arizona U. center who goes to the Green Bay Packers, will be all-pro center this year.

What became of that Colorado Springs bid for Armstrong and Montaner? All they needed was $6,000 yards. . . the firm of Braddock and Gould will try to recoup some of their restaurant losses in the wholesale liquor biz.

The Los Angeles Actors' Union made Gabby Hartnett and Dizzy Dean cough up $27 each in dues before letting them go on the radio, but the New York branch didn't have the heart to send Tony Galento a bill when he turned Theopian.

Rah, rah section: There'll be one or more pro scouts watching Bob Nowaskey, George Washington U. star, every time the Colonials take the field this season. . . Add candidates for Bud Holland's job at Cornell: Alva Kelley, a junior from Pennsylvania, who is red hot in spring practice. . . Mississippi U. is getting ready to put the finishing touches on one of the standout athletic statia in the South. . . More than one Midwestern school is keeping close tab on Joe Batiste, Tucson (Ariz.) high's five-threat track and field star, who can do the hundred in ten flat.

Today's guest star.
Bob Steffen, Buffalo Evening News "Babe Herman's fourth child was born March 15 (income tax day), which is an ideal day for a $400 exemption to step in." Dixie Specials Two days after the Reds left Tampa the cruiser Cincinnati steamer in. . . Ted Williams hurled a ball over the fence at Atlanta the other day, and Joe Cronin fined him $50. . . Later, Ted hit one over and got his dough back. . . The scatter-arming throwing of George Myatt is about to run poor Zeke Bonura ragged. . . Oral Hildebrand will be the Yanks' No. 3 pitcher, behind only Ruffing and Monte Pearson. . . Detroit will return to Lakeland next spring, but both the Cardinals and Yanks left St. Pete without signing up.

Everything but the beer.
Art Olsen, wealthy Tulsa, Okla. admirer of Joe McCarthy, presented Joe with a watch which not only tells the time in different parts of the world, travel speed and other things, but also can be used as a compass.

This and that: Lew Tendler will be a guest referee at the Pat Moran benefit show in New Orleans tonight. . . Buddy Beers, former catcher in the old Ohio State League, now is a beer distributor in Charleston, W. Va. . . Mary Simmons, Detroit mid-dleweight, is called a "second Tony Galento" and advertising posters show him drinking milk out of a beer glass. . . Baseball men in faster company are watching Stuart X. Stephenson, doing a swell job as president of the Southeastern League. He's a re-formed sports writer.

The Dallas Ball Club is owned by the Messrs. Scheppe. . . In their spare time they brew beer. . . Their outfield fences are festooned with ads for all kinds of beer except their own. . . Asked why one of the Messrs. Scheppe said: "We don't get paid for running our own ads on our own fences, brother."

Dick Harlow III With Grip

Due to the fact that Head Football Coach Dick Harlow is at the Phillips House (II) with an attack of gripe infection, the Harvard Athletic Association announced this morning that Wes Fesler, end, coach, would supervise the spring football practice which will be resumed today.

Coach Harlow went to the Phillips House yesterday and it probably will be a week or ten days before he is strong enough to return to direct spring practice.
